Evidence-Based Methodologies

There are many methods proven to help children with autism. Each method can be used alone or in combination with other methods. AutismPro incorporates the general philosophies of a number of evidence-based teaching methods. AutismPro recommends only those methods that have been proven to benefit children with autism.

Curriculum of Over 300 Objectives

AutismPro's curriculum is based on developmental norms for children between the ages of 2 and 7. This curriculum of objectives is grouped into 28 different curriculum domains across 8 developmental areas.

Strategies for Teaching

AutismPro's Strategies for Teaching include information about how to teach and interact with the child. They provide method-specific procedures for implementing activities. AutismPro categorizes Strategies for Teaching the child into three main areas: Prepare, Interact and Respond.

Strategies for Supporting the Child

Strategies for Supporting the Child are techniques to help you solve specific problems and challenges that interfere with the child's learning. These Strategies give you specific solutions in seven problem areas to help prevent problem behaviors, encourage positive behaviors, and teach more appropriate skills to replace problem behaviors.
